(2) Online Shopping of High-risk Foods

Online food shopping has become more popular in recent years. When purchasing food online, consumers should pay particular attention to the nature of foods because certain high-risk food items are known to be associated with food poisoning outbreaks. Public needs to be more discerning when ordering high-risk foods online, and should patronise reliable shops or online stores granted with licences/ restricted food permits. The public is advised to pay attention to the nature and potential risks associated with the food items that they intend to purchase online.
